DREW DANIELS, TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL BAND STUDENT, TAKES STATE AWARD FOR SECOND YEAR IN A ROW

Texarkana, TX – For the SECOND YEAR IN A ROW, The University Interscholastic League (UIL) has selected Drew Daniels, Texas High School Band student, as Outstanding Performer during the Texas State Solo & Ensemble Percussion Solo Contest.

From an original field of 90,000 students who participated in the Regional UIL contests, to the 24,000 student musicians who participated in the State competition, Daniels is only one of 256 students to earn the distinguished honor of being recognized as an Outstanding Performer. This distinction is given to few and is representative of excellence in music. He is the first Texas High School band student to earn the recognition and the first THS student to win consecutive titles.

Daniels, an incoming Junior at Texas High School, is the son of Nancy and James Daniels.
